

New staff

Keith Towl

In October, Keith joined IANZ as an Accreditation Officer in the Mechanical Testing Programme. Keith has a NZCS (Metallurgy), gained from Auckland Technical Institute, and over thirty years of experience working with analysis and testing systems in the steel industry. Roles have involved chemical and mechanical testing, product and process development, QC/QA programmes, technical support and technical marketing, failure analysis, standards development and technical training. Three years spent in the Chemical and Materials Engineering Department of Auckland University and work as Secretary of the Society of Materials has exposed Keith to a wide range of other industries and testing systems.

Michelle Ong

Michelle is the new Marketing Assistant. She is a graduate from Auckland University of Technology where she gained a Business Degree with double majors in Marketing and Advertising. Prior to joining IANZ, Michelle was with The New Zealand Herald.